

Nina Nedelykov, Architect,
lives and works with her Brazilian husband in Berlin and São Paulo. The office achieved a number of international awards and award nominations. She has a wide portfolio of publications and lectures and held a number of institutional positions, she was Vice-President of the German Bundesarchitektenkammer 2001-2007 and Vice-President of the Architects Chamber of Berlin, and from 2000-2002 member of the Executive Board of the Architects' Council of Europe. Since 2005 she is Council-Member of UIA and since last year director of the UIA-workprogram Heritage region 1.